Plaintiff Filonek's, Inc., d/b/a Filonek's Bar and Grill ("Plaintiff") brings this action on behalf of itself, and all others similarly situated to recover damages and obtain injunctive relief against Defendants for violations of: (i) the antitrust laws of the United States; and (ii) the antitrust and consumer protection laws of the states set forth herein. Plaintiff alleges as follows based on personal knowledge as to itself, and on information and belief as to all others.

INTRODUCTION

1. Defendants Cavendish Farms, Ltd. and Cavendish Farms, Inc. (collectively, "Cavendish"), Circana, LLC ("Circana"), J.R. Simplot Company ("Simplot"), Lamb Weston Holdings, Inc., Lamb Weston, Inc.; Lamb Weston BSW, LLC; Lamb Weston/Midwest, Inc.; Lamb Weston Sales, Inc. (collectively, "Lamb Weston"), and McCain Foods, Ltd. and McCain Foods USA, Inc. (collectively, "McCain")¹—are the largest producers and sellers of frozen french fries, hash browns, tater tots and other frozen potato products (collectively, "Frozen Potato" or "Frozen Potatoes") in the United States.² This is a highly concentrated industry and these four Defendants control over 95% of the Frozen Potatoes market.

2. Starting as early as January 1, 2021, and continuing to the present ("Class Period"), Defendants and their co-conspirators conspired to fix, raise, maintain, and stabilize the price of Frozen Potatoes in the United States. Defendants implemented and executed their conspiracy by increasing the price of Frozen Potatoes at nearly identical times, leveraging a temporary spike in input costs to justify permanent industry-wide price increases, and utilizing other available means to exploit their collective market power and artificially increase prices of Frozen Potatoes.

3. Defendants' anticompetitive conspiracy has led to record profits and revenues during the Class Period. Defendant Lamb Weston reported that its first quarter fiscal year 2024 net income increased 111% year-over-year.³ From July 2023 to June 2024, although sales volume remained flat, Frozen Potato sales in dollars increased by 14.6%.⁴ Likewise, between July 2022 and July 2024, Frozen Potato prices jumped 47%.

4. Defendants' wrongful and anticompetitive actions had the intended purpose and effect of artificially fixing, raising, maintaining, and stabilizing the price of Frozen Potatoes to Plaintiff and members of the Classes (as defined herein) to overpay. As a direct result of Defendants' concerted pricing and supply side decision making, Frozen Potato prices in the United States have been artificially inflated since at least January 1, 2021, causing businesses such as Plaintiff and members of the Classes to pay more for Frozen Potatoes than they would have but for the Defendants' agreement.

5. On behalf of a proposed class of thousands of businesses nationwide, Plaintiff brings this class action to put an end to Defendants' illegal scheme, to recover damages, and to restore competition in the Frozen Potato marketplace.

JURISDICTION AND VENUE

6. This action arises under Section 1 of the Sherman Act (15 U.S.C. § 1), and Section 16 of the Clayton Act (15 U.S.C. § 26). Plaintiff's Sherman Act claim seeks injunctive relief, costs of suit, and reasonable attorney's fees, and the state law claims seek injunctive relief, damages, costs of suit, and reasonable attorneys' fees.

7. This Court has subject matter jurisdiction pursuant to Section 16 of the Clayton Act, 15 U.S.C. § 26, and 28 U.S.C. §§ 1331, 1333(d), 1337(a), and 1367.

8. This Court has personal jurisdiction over all Defendants pursuant to Section 12 of the Clayton Act, 15 U.S.C. § 22 and 28 U.S.C. § 1391. Venue is proper because Defendants reside, transact business, and can be found in this District.

9. Defendants' unlawful, anticompetitive conduct substantially affected interstate commerce throughout the United States, causing injury to Plaintiff and the geographically dispersed Class Members.

10. Venue is appropriate in this District under Sections 4, 12, and 16 of the Clayton Act, 15 U.S.C. §§ 15, 22 and 26 and 28 U.S.C. § 1391(b), (c) and (d), because one or more Defendants resided or transacted business in this District, is licensed to do business or is doing business in this District, and because a substantial portion of the affected interstate commerce described herein was carried out in this District.

11. This Court has personal jurisdiction over each Defendant because, inter alia, each Defendant: (a) transacted business throughout the United States, including in this District; (b) manufactured, sold, shipped, and/or delivered substantial quantities of Frozen Potatoes throughout the United States, including this District; (c) had substantial contacts with the United States, including this District; and/or (d) engaged in an antitrust conspiracy that was directed at and had a direct, foreseeable, and intended effect of causing injury to the business or property of persons residing in, located in, or doing business throughout the United States, including this District.

12. The activities of the Defendants and all co-conspirators, as described herein, were within the flow of, were intended to, and did have direct, substantial and reasonably foreseeable effects on the interstate commerce of the United States.

13. No other forum would be more convenient for the parties and witnesses to litigate this case.

FACTUAL ALLEGATIONS

A. Background on the Frozen Potato Industry

31. Potatoes are the leading vegetable crop in the United States, and the United States is the fifth largest producer of potatoes in the world. Billions of pounds of potatoes are produced in the United States every year. For instance, in 2023, nearly a million acres of potatoes were harvested in the United States, producing 44 billion pounds of potatoes. Of those 44 billion pounds, 41 billion were sold for a total value of $5.3 billion USD.⁶

⁶ A “cwt,” or “hundredweight,” is equal to 100 pounds.

32. Approximately 70% of potatoes sold in the United States are sold to processors for Frozen Potatoes, chips, shoestrings, dehydrated potatoes, and other potato products.

33. Of the potatoes sold to processors, approximately 60% are used for frozen french fries and other frozen products which, in 2023, accounted for 17.6 billion pounds of potatoes. According to one estimate, the average American consumes nearly 48 pounds of Frozen Potatoes each year.

34. Frozen Potatoes are produced in a multi-step process that is highly automated using specialized machines. These machines clean and peel potatoes, cut them into strips or other shapes, blanch, dehydrate, par-fry, freeze, pack, and store them.

35. Frozen Potato producers typically acquire potatoes in mass quantities from potato growers and produce a variety of products in their factories. They sell these products to a variety of customers, including the food service industry, which consists of restaurants, hotels, schools, hospitals and other facilities; and, in retail channels, including grocery stores, convenience stores and other retailers such as Target and Wal Mart. Food distributors also purchase Frozen Potatoes from producers.

36. Frozen Potatoes are intended to be sold to commercial foodservice entities, such as Plaintiffs and the Classes. Frozen Potatoes are popular both in the foodservice and retail sectors. Throughout the Class Period, french fries appeared on 59-60% of restaurant menus nationwide.⁷ Retail sales of Frozen Potatoes increased nearly 10% from 2019 to 2024.⁸

B. Defendants' Synchronized Price Increases in Furtherance of the Conspiracy

37. Defendants engaged in a conspiracy to fix and raise the price of Frozen Potatoes throughout the Class Period. Upon information and belief, Defendants' conspiracy was implemented by their exchange of detailed, competitively sensitive, and closely guarded, non-public information about Frozen Potatoes.

38. Defendants coordinated price increases at identical or near-identical times during the Class Period to the detriment of Plaintiff and the Class. Defendants sent price increase letters to their customers, noting the amount, outlining an effective date, and sometimes including purported justifications.

39. In January 2021, Simplot and McCain each sent price increase letters to their customers within one day of each other. These letters indicated that the cost of Frozen Potatoes would increase by $0.04 per pound. Simplot also notified Plaintiff and the Class that the price of line flow potato products would increase by $0.02 per pound. In January of 2021, Simplot and McCain each sent price increase letters within one day of each other. These letters indicated that the cost of Frozen Potatoes would increase by $0.04 per pound. Simplot also notified Plaintiff and the Classes that the price of line flow potato products would increase by $0.02 per pound. The letters sent by Simplot and McCain both indicated an effective date of March 15, 2021.

40. In May 2021, Lamb Weston and McCain sent price increase letters within two weeks of each other. The Lamb Weston letter indicated that the cost of Frozen Potatoes would increase by $0.08 per pound, while the McCain price increase letter indicated that the cost of Frozen Potatoes would increase by $0.04 per pound. The letters sent by Lamb Weston and McCain had effective dates of July 1, 2021 and July 15, 2021, respectively. Furthermore, on June 4, 2021, Cavendish sent price increase letters indicating that the cost of Frozen Potatoes would increase by $0.04 per pound. The Cavendish letter had an effective date of July 15, 2021, the same day as McCain's price increase.

41. In October 2021, Lamb Weston, McCain, and Cavendish each sent price increase letters within five days of each other. The price increase letters all indicated that the cost of Frozen Potatoes would increase by $0.08 per pound, and all had the same effective date—December 15, 2021.

42. In February of 2022, Defendants Lamb Weston, McCain, Simplot and Cavendish

each sent price increase letters within five days of one another. The McCain and Cavendish letters indicated that the cost of Frozen Potatoes would increase by $0.12 per pound, while the Lamb Weston price increase letter indicated that the cost of Frozen Potatoes would increase by $0.10 per pound. The price increase letters had the same effective dates of April 1, 2022. And on April 8, 2022, Cavendish sent a price increase letter indicating that the cost of Frozen Potatoes would increase by $0.07 per pound, with an effective date of May 15, 2022.

43. In a competitive market, price increases would be viewed by competitors as opportunities to increase market share through more competitive pricing. However, this was not the case in the Frozen Potato industry as confirmed by Lamb Weston's former Vice-President who admitted their prices increase: "will probably be exactly the price increase that McCain wanted, which was $0.04 on A grade and $0.02 they will announce a price increase." The former Vice President added, "And they hope McCain will follow, and Simplot will follow, and Cavendish will follow."⁹ These public signaling statements were in furtherance of Defendants' conspiracy to artificially increase Frozen Potato as alleged in this Complaint. Additionally, a former Senior Director of McCain Foods stated around 2023 that he wanted to compete with Lamb Weston on the price and market share of battered fries but the "higher ups in the room...[thought] we're going to screw it up for everyone. So we shouldn't risk it." Around the same time, a former VP at Lamb Weston stated there was "absolutely. 100%" no incentive to fight for each other's market share and that they were "behaving themselves."

C. Defendants' Anticompetitive Conduct Caused Unprecedented Anticompetitive Price Increases for Frozen Potatoes

44. During the Class Period, the price of french fries and other Frozen Potato products has risen dramatically. Plaintiff analyzed the Produce Price Index (PPI) of Frozen Potatoes, which as demonstrated by Figure 1 shows an increase over time in Frozen Potato prices, with a notable spike commencing at the start of the Class Period.

46. This analysis confirms that Defendants’ anticompetitive conduct caused dramatic and unprecedented price increases in the Frozen Potato market.

D. The Structure and Characteristics of the Frozen Potato Market Render the Conspiracy Economically Plausible

1. The Frozen Potato Industry is Highly Concentrated

47. The Frozen Potatoes industry is highly concentrated, with just a few producers controlling the supply. Defendants comprise the four largest domestic sellers of Frozen Potatoes in North America, collectively holding over 95% of the market.¹¹ According to one November 2023 analysis, Lamb Weston held more than a 40% market share, followed by McCain at 30%, Simplot at 20%, and Cavendish at 7–8%.¹²

48. Defendants have long controlled the United States Frozen Potatoes market. Indeed, a 2001 book found that just three Defendants—Lamb Weston, McCain and J.R. Simplot—had a collective market share of 80%.¹³ At present, Defendant Cavendish self-identifies as “the 4th largest processor of Frozen Potato products in North America.”¹⁴

49. This high market concentration paved the way for conspiracy, since Defendants only needed to agree with, and police, a few market participants for their price-fixing agreement to be successful. Moreover, their large market shares gave them the collective power to impose and sustain the price increases described herein.

50. President Biden has repeatedly clamored against the historic levels of economic concentration across the United States, describing it as “troubling” while vowing to “be the first president in four decades to reverse this trend.” Highlighting the heightened scrutiny of anticompetitive behavior in the United States in recent years, the Biden Administration launched “a new Strike Force to crack down on unfair and illegal pricing” in March 2024. The task force is jointly led by the FTC and the DOJ.

2. Frozen Potatoes Are a Substitutable Commodity Product, Which Encourages Collusion

51. Frozen potatoes are a commodity product and Defendants’ Frozen Potato products do not differ significantly in terms of quality, appearance, or use, rendering them functionally interchangeable. Frozen potatoes are generally produced and sold to standard specifications (e.g., grade of potatoes, style, dimensions, color, size, free fatty acid content, weight, method of cooking, etc.) and must adhere to standards set by the U.S. Department of Agriculture for production, packing, labeling, and packaging to be competitive. (See generally, U.S. Dept. of Agric., Commodity Specification for Frozen Potato Products (December 2021).)

52. When products are interchangeable, companies generally are forced to win business by competing on price. Thus, cartels are more likely to form between competitors selling interchangeable products as means to avoiding price-based competition and because cartel members can more easily monitor and detect defections from a price-fixing agreement.

3. The Frozen Potato Market is Characterized by Inelastic Demand

53. Demand is considered inelastic when a seller can increase prices without suffering a substantial reduction in demand. Demand inelasticity allows for collusion, because it enables producers to raise their prices collectively without triggering substitution to alternative products that could make the conspiratorial prices unprofitable.

54. Consumer demand for Frozen Potatoes is relatively unaffected by price because Frozen Potatoes are historically considered to be an inexpensive good, and even when prices fluctuate, they comprise a small share of consumers' budgets. Moreover, as one analyst noted in 2023, "since potatoes are the most popular vegetable among U.S. consumers, the demand for potatoes is more price inelastic than that for less popular vegetables."¹⁵

55. Pricing for Frozen Potatoes is highly inelastic, in part, because there are no adequate substitutes. Frozen Potatoes are sold in virtually all restaurants and grocery stores throughout the United States. This is because, due to their reduced preparation and ease of use, Frozen Potatoes are commercially accepted on a large scale. Although there are potential substitute products, such as fresh potatoes, the characteristics of those products lack the unique characteristics of Frozen Potatoes that make them attractive to both commercial and residential customers.

56. Indeed, according to Defendant Lamb Weston, "[a] larger share of customers [are] adding [french fries] to meal orders than in the past." Lamb Weston's CEO, Thomas Werner, noted during a recent earnings call that: "[t]he fry attachment rate has stayed pretty consistent," though "[i]t's been above historical levels for the past two, three years," despite mounting reasons to tighten purse strings."¹⁶

57. While demand for Frozen Potatoes—as a category—is relatively unaffected by price, competition within the industry would have allowed commercial consumers to choose the cheapest brand. Put another way, had Defendants not coordinated their price increases, consumers would have preferred the cheapest brand.

4. Defendants Had Numerous Opportunities to Collude

58. Defendants have had ample opportunities to collude through trade association meetings, via movement of executives from one co-conspirator to another, and other contacts.

59. Each of the Producing Defendants is a “sustaining member” of the National Potato Council (“NPC”).¹⁷ The NPC bills itself as “the advocate for the economic well-being of the U.S. potato growers on federal legislative, regulatory, environmental, and trade issues.”¹⁸ The NPC holds annual and seasonal meetings each year, as well as an annual “Potato Expo” and countless other meetings, summits, and leadership institutes which, combined, provide ample opportunities for Defendants to collude. Defendants Simplot, Lamb Weston, and McCain sponsored the 2024 Potato Expo held in Austin, Texas.¹⁹

60. Three Defendants are also “sustaining partners” of the World Potato Congress. McCain and Simplot are “platinum” partners, while Cavendish is a “silver” partner. The Congress’s vision is to be “[r]ecognized world-wide as the premier global potato networking organization,” and its mission is to “create networks to help drive sustainable growth of the potato.”²⁰ The Congress’s biennial meetings and networking focus provided opportunities for collusion as well.²¹

61. Defendants McCain and Cavendish sponsored the March 2024 Northeast Potato

Technology forum in Charlottetown, PEI Canada.²² The forum bills itself as an opportunity to “discuss potato research and promote collaboration and information exchange.”²³

62. Defendants Simplot, McCain, and Lamb Weston sponsored the July 2024 Potato Sustainability Alliance Summer Symposium at McDonald’s headquarters in Chicago, IL.²⁴ The Potato Sustainability Alliance bills itself as “an inclusive, pre-competitive collaboration of all players in the potato value chain.”²⁵

63. Each Producing Defendant played a pivotal role in the formation of The Alliance for Potato Research & Education (“APRE”). APRE is a not-for-profit organization funded by the potato industry, including potato growers and potato food manufacturers. It is “dedicated to advancing the scientific understanding of the role potatoes play in promoting the health of all people.”²⁶

64. Defendants Lamb Weston, Simplot, McCain and Cavendish created APRE to fund research and educate consumers about the health benefits of potatoes in all food sectors. Defendant Lamb Weston no longer participates in APRE despite being instrumental in its creation.

65. Defendant Simplot’s Jolyn Rasmussen is currently the Chair of APRE’s Board of Directors. Defendant McCain Foods USA’s Daniel Metherringham is APRE’s Secretary/Treasurer. Peter Johnston of Defendant Cavendish Farms and Blair Richardson of Potatoes USA serve on APRE’s Board of Directors.²⁷

66. Circana’s PotatoTrac publication provides another avenue by which Defendants collude and effectuate their conspiracy. It gives frozen potato producers detailed reports of the entire market, allowing Defendants and their co-conspirators to work together to maximize margin while limiting competition and raising and maintaining artificially high prices for Frozen Potatoes.

67. According to the Potato Grower magazine, PotatoTrac provides “SKU level data for all frozen potato shipments from the four major frozen potato processors – Cavendish, (Lamb-Weston), McCain, and Simplot – to all U.S. foodservice customers, as well as foodservice exports from the U.S. to foreign countries...While the PotatoTrac figures do not account for 100 percent of the frozen potato products sold to U.S. foodservice distributors and operators, they account for an estimated 93 percent of the total by the participants.”²⁸

68. PotatoTrac’s subscribership is limited to Defendants. Defendants share their internal production and pricing information with Potato Trac knowing that the publication is distributed to its “competitors.” This sharing of competitively sensitive information provides a mechanism by which Defendants can police one another, ensuring that the supply and pricing goals of the conspiracy are realized.

69. The U.S. Supreme Court recognized as early as 1921 that agreements to exchange competitively sensitive information can be “inconsistent with that free and unrestricted trade which the [Sherman Act] contemplates shall be maintained.” Am. Column & Lumber Co. v. United States, 257 U.S. 377, 409 (1921). In addition, the Supreme Court has long held that information exchange among competitors satisfies the concerted-action element of Section 1. This could include any information-sharing arrangements run by a third-party reporting service (such as Circana’s PotatoTrac), in which participants agree to share their information with the third party.

5. There Are High Barriers to Entry in the Frozen Potato Industry

70. Under normal circumstances, a collusive agreement amongst horizontal competitors would attract new market entrants. However, high barriers to entry in the Frozen Potatoes industry have prevented new firms from entering the market.

71. In particular, any new entrant would need to invest significant start-up capital on plants, specialized equipment, labor, infrastructure for distribution, and regulatory compliance. In addition, producers of Frozen Potato products are typically either vertically integrated (i.e., they grow their own potatoes), such as Defendant J.R. Simplot, or they have long established farm partners from whom they source their potatoes. This makes de novo entry by new participants even more challenging.

72. As a result, new competitors were prevented from responding to the supra-competitive prices caused by Defendants' price-fixing agreement by entering the market, thus facilitating Defendants' conspiracy.

CLASS ACTION ALLEGATIONS

73. Plaintiff brings this action on behalf of itself and as a class action under the provisions of Rule 23(a), (b)(1) and (b)(2) of the Federal Rules of Civil Procedure on behalf of the members of a class of commercial indirect purchasers seeking injunctive relief (the "Nationwide Class") defined as follows:

All entities who indirectly purchased Frozen Potatoes from defendants or co-conspirators for commercial food preparation between January 1, 2021 and the present.

74. Plaintiff also brings this action on behalf of themselves, and all others similarly situated as a class action under Federal Rules of Civil Procedure 23(a) and 23(b)(3), seeking damages as well as equitable relief, on behalf of the following class (the "State Law Class"):

All persons and entities who indirectly purchased Frozen Potatoes from defendants or co-conspirators for commercial food preparation in Alabama, Arizona, Arkansas, California, Colorado, Connecticut, the District of Columbia, Florida, Hawaii, Illinois, Iowa, Kansas, Maine, Maryland, Michigan, Minnesota, Mississippi, Montana, Nebraska, Nevada, New Hampshire, New Jersey, New Mexico, New York, North Carolina, North Dakota, Oregon, Rhode Island, South Dakota, Tennessee, Utah, Vermont, West Virginia, and/or Wisconsin between January 1, 2021 and the present.

75. Specifically excluded from the Nationwide Class and State Law Class (collectively “Classes”) are Defendants; the officers, directors, or employees of any Defendant; any entity in which any Defendant has a controlling interest; and any affiliate, legal representative, heir, or assign of any Defendant. Also excluded from these Classes is any judicial officer presiding over this action and the members of his/her immediate family and judicial staff, any juror assigned to this action, any business majority-owned by any such person, and any Co-conspirator identified in this action.

76. Numerosity: Plaintiff does not know the exact number of Class Members²⁹ because such information presently is in the exclusive control of Defendants. Plaintiff believes that due to the nature of the trade and commerce involved, there are thousands of Class Members geographically dispersed throughout the United States, such that joinder of all Class Members is impracticable.

77. Typicality: Plaintiff’s claims are typical of the claims of the Classes because Plaintiff purchased Frozen Potatoes indirectly from one or more of the Defendants, and therefore Plaintiff’s claims arise from the same common course of conduct giving rise to the claims of the members of the Classes and the relief sought is common to the Classes.

78. Common Questions Predominate: There are questions of law and fact common to the Classes, including, but not limited to:

- A. Whether Defendants and their co-conspirators engaged in an agreement, combination, or conspiracy to fix, raise, elevate, maintain, or stabilize prices of Frozen Potatoes sold in interstate commerce in the United States;
- B. The duration of the conspiracy alleged herein, and the acts performed by Defendants and their co-conspirators in furtherance of the conspiracy;
- C. Whether the alleged conspiracy violated the antitrust laws;
- D. Whether the conduct of Defendants and their co-conspirators, as alleged in this Complaint, caused injury to the business or property of the Plaintiff and Class Members;
- E. The effect of Defendants' alleged conspiracy on the prices of Frozen Potatoes sold in the United States and applicable states listed in the State Law Class during the Class Period;
- F. Whether Plaintiff and other members of the Classes are entitled to, among other things, injunctive relief and if so, the nature and extent of such injunctive relief; and
- G. The appropriate class-wide measure of damages.

These and other questions of law or fact which are common to the members of the Classes predominate over any questions affecting only individual members of the Classes.

79. Adequacy: Plaintiff will fairly and adequately protect the interests of the Classes in that Plaintiff's interests are aligned with, and not antagonistic to, those of the other members of the Classes who indirectly purchased Frozen Potatoes and Plaintiff has retained counsel competent and experienced in the prosecution of class actions and antitrust litigation to represent themselves and the Classes.

80. Superiority: A class action is superior to other available methods for the fair and efficient adjudication of this controversy since individual joinder of all damaged Class Members is impractical. Prosecution as a class action will eliminate the possibility of duplicative litigation. The relatively small damages suffered by individual Class Members compared to the expense and burden of individual prosecution of the claims asserted in this litigation means that, absent a class action, it would not be feasible for Class Members to seek redress for the violations of law herein alleged. Further, individual litigation presents the potential for inconsistent or contradictory judgments and would greatly magnify the delay and expense to all parties and to the court system. Therefore, a class action presents far fewer case management difficulties and will provide the benefits of unitary adjudication, economy of scale and comprehensive supervision by a single court.

81. The prosecution of separate actions by individual Class Members would create the risk of inconsistent or varying adjudications, establishing incompatible standards of conduct for Defendants.

82. Defendants have acted on grounds generally applicable to the Classes, thereby making final injunctive relief appropriate with respect to the Classes as a whole.

DEFENDANTS ARE ENGAGED IN A CONTINUING ANTITRUST VIOLATION

83. During the Class Period, Defendants continued to sell Frozen Potatoes to Plaintiff and other putative Class Members at prices artificially inflated by Defendants' price-fixing conspiracy.

84. Due to ever-fluctuating economic and market conditions, Defendants needed to continually renew, monitor, and adjust their price-fixing agreement. This resulted in multiple coordinated price increases throughout the Class Period, as described above. Moreover, each of these activities resulted in new, overt acts that injured Plaintiff and the putative Classes, thus creating a new cause of action for purposes of the statute of limitations.

85. In addition, each sale of Frozen Potatoes made to Plaintiff or the putative Classes that was artificially inflated as a result of the conspiracy also constituted a new, overt act that restarted the statute of limitations.

86. These new, overt acts—which would not have occurred had the conspiracy disbanded—were not merely reaffirmations of Defendants’ previous acts. Rather, they were new and independent acts that were necessary to renew and refine Defendants’ agreement, resulting in new and accumulating injury to Plaintiff and the other members of the proposed Classes.

87. As a result, Defendants engaged in a continuing antitrust violation throughout the Class Period and, regardless of any tolling- and estoppel-related arguments, Plaintiff’s claims and those of the putative Classes are not time barred.

PLAINTIFF DID NOT DISCOVER, NOR COULD HAVE DISCOVERED THROUGH REASONABLE DILIGENCE THE CLAIMS IN THIS LAWSUIT EARLIER

88. Plaintiff’s antitrust claims are governed by the discovery rule—i.e., the statute of limitations does not begin to run until discovery of the injury from the alleged violation. Prior to the investigation and analysis performed by and for Plaintiff’s counsel, Plaintiff and putative Class Members did not know—nor could they have known through the exercise of reasonable diligence—that the prices they were paying for Frozen Potatoes were artificially inflated and causing them injury.

89. Furthermore, even assuming that Plaintiff could have somehow discovered their injury sooner (which they could not have), they could not have determined that those injuries were the result of Defendants’ price-fixing conspiracy. As discussed below, not only did Defendants never reveal the existence of their price-fixing conspiracy, they actively concealed its existence by, among other things, blaming price increases on rising raw material, packaging, labor, and energy costs, as well as environmental conditions such as heatwaves and droughts. Plaintiffs did not know and had no reasonable way of knowing that these statements were false and, in fact, they were being injured by Defendants' price-fixing conspiracy.

90. For these reasons, both the discovery rule and the doctrine of equitable tolling dictate that all of Plaintiff's claims and those of the putative Classes, going back to the beginning of the Class Period, are timely.

DEFENDANTS FRAUDULENTLY CONCEALED THEIR CONSPIRACY

91. Throughout the Class Period, each of the Defendants effectively, affirmatively, and fraudulently concealed their conspiracy from Plaintiffs and putative Class Members.

92. In engaging in the price increases and other conspiratorial acts set forth in this Complaint, the Defendants pointed to and utilized false and misleading pretexts, including assertions that the price increases were due to rising costs of potatoes and other inputs for Frozen Potatoes. As set forth herein, and based on Plaintiff's analysis, such pretexts cannot explain or justify the prices increases set forth herein and were intended to conceal Defendants' conspiracy.

93. As a result of this active concealment, Plaintiffs and putative Class Members neither knew, nor in the exercise of due diligence could they have reasonably known, of the facts that form the basis for their claims. Thus, even if the discovery rule or equitable tolling were somehow inapplicable, Defendants should nonetheless be estopped from raising any statute of limitations defense.

ANTICOMPETITIVE EFFECTS OF DEFENDANTS' CONDUCT

94. Defendants' anticompetitive conduct had the following effects, among others:
- A. Price competition has been restrained or eliminated with respect to Frozen Potatoes;
 - B. The prices of Frozen Potatoes have been fixed, raised, stabilized, or maintained at artificially inflated levels;
 - C. Indirect purchasers of Frozen Potatoes have been deprived of free and open competition; and
 - D. Indirect purchasers of Frozen Potatoes paid artificially inflated prices.

95. The purpose of the conspiratorial conduct of the Defendants and their co-conspirators was to raise, fix, or maintain the price of Frozen Potatoes. As a direct and foreseeable result, Plaintiff and the Classes paid supra-competitive prices for Frozen Potatoes during the Class Period.

96. The price effects of Defendants' conduct have particularly impacted the commercial Class Members in this case, who have borne the brunt of the conspiracy, by being forced to pay higher prices for Frozen Potatoes at restaurants and retail stores. As one recent article noted, "Consumer purchases of frozen potatoes have shown minimal sensitivity to price increases, indicating inelastic demand."³⁰

97. By reason of the alleged violations of the antitrust laws, Plaintiff and the Classes have sustained injury to their businesses or property, having paid higher prices for Frozen Potatoes than they would have paid in the absence of Defendants' illegal contract, combination, or conspiracy and, as a result, have suffered damages.

98. This is an antitrust injury of the type that the antitrust laws were meant to punish and prevent.

CLAIMS FOR RELIEF

COUNT 1

Restraint of Trade in Violation of the Sherman Act § 1

15 U.S.C. § 1

(On Behalf of Nationwide Class for Injunctive and Equitable Relief)

99. Plaintiff incorporates by reference the allegations in the preceding paragraphs.

100. Beginning as early as January 1, 2021, the exact date being unknown to Plaintiff and exclusively within the knowledge of Defendants, and continuing through the present, Defendants and their co-conspirators entered into a continuing agreement to unlawfully and unreasonably restrain trade and commerce in violation of Section 1 of the Sherman Act, 15 U.S.C. § 1 by artificially reducing or eliminating competition for the pricing of Frozen Potatoes.

101. Defendants' acts in furtherance of their combination or conspiracy were authorized, ordered, or done by their officers, agents, employees, or representatives while actively engaged in the management of Defendants' affairs.

102. Defendants' anticompetitive acts had a direct, substantial, and foreseeable effect on interstate commerce by raising and fixing prices for Frozen Potatoes throughout the United States.

103. The conspiratorial acts and combinations have caused unreasonable restraints in the market for Frozen Potatoes.

104. As a result of Defendants' unlawful conduct, Plaintiff and the members of the Nationwide Class have been harmed by being forced to pay inflated, supra-competitive prices for Frozen Potatoes.

105. In formulating and carrying out the alleged agreement, understanding and conspiracy, Defendants and all of their co-conspirators did those things that they combined and conspired to do, including but not limited to the acts, practices, and course of conduct set forth in this Complaint. Defendants' conspiracy had the following effects, among others:

- A. Price competition in the market for Frozen Potatoes has been restrained, suppressed, and/or eliminated in the United States;
- B. Prices for Frozen Potatoes sold by Defendants, their divisions, subsidiaries, and affiliates, and all of their co-conspirators have been fixed, raised, stabilized, and maintained at artificially high, non-competitive levels throughout the United States; and
- C. Plaintiff and members of the Nationwide Class have been deprived of the benefits of free and open competition in the purchase of Frozen Potatoes.

106. Defendants took all the actions alleged in this Complaint with the knowledge and intended effect that their actions would proximately cause the price of Frozen Potatoes to be higher than it would be but for Defendants' conduct.

107. As a direct and proximate result of Defendants' anticompetitive conduct, Plaintiff and members of the Nationwide Class have been injured in their business or property and will continue to be injured in their business and property by paying more for Frozen Potatoes than they would have paid and will pay in the absence of the conspiracy.

108. The alleged contract, combination, or conspiracy is a per se violation of the federal antitrust laws.

VIOLATIONS OF STATE ANTITRUST AND CONSUMER PROTECTION LAWS

109. Plaintiff repeats and realleges, as if fully set forth herein, each allegation, and each of the state-specific causes of action described below incorporates the allegations as if fully set forth therein.

110. During the Class Period, Defendants and their co-conspirators entered and engaged in a contract, combination, or conspiracy to fix, raise, maintain, and stabilize the price of Frozen Potato prices in various states to unreasonably restrain trade and commerce and harm consumers in violation of the various state antitrust and consumer protection laws set forth below.

111. In formulating and effectuating this conspiracy, Defendants and their co-conspirators performed acts in furtherance of the alleged combination and conspiracy, including agreeing to fix, raise, maintain, and stabilize the price of Frozen Potatoes which injured Plaintiff and members of the State Law Class.

112. Defendants and their co-conspirators engaged in actions described above for the purpose of carrying out their unlawful agreements to fix, increase, maintain, or stabilize Frozen Potato prices at artificially high levels. As a direct and proximate result of Defendants' conduct, Plaintiff and members of the State Law Class were deprived of free and open competition and paid more to purchase Frozen Potatoes than they otherwise would have in the absence of Defendants' unlawful conduct. This injury is of the type that the antitrust and consumer protection laws of the below states were designed to prevent and flows from that which makes Defendants' conduct unlawful.

113. In addition, Defendants have profited significantly from the conspiracy. Defendants' profits derived from their anticompetitive conduct and come at the expense of and to the detriment of Plaintiff and members of the State Law Class.

114. Accordingly, Plaintiff and the members of the State Law Class in each of the following jurisdictions seek damages (including statutory damages where applicable), to be trebled or otherwise increased as permitted by each particular jurisdiction's law, injunction (where applicable), and costs of suit, including reasonable attorneys' fees, to the extent permitted by the following state laws.

115. Defendants' anticompetitive acts described above were knowing and willful and constitute violations of the following state antitrust and consumer protection statutes.
